THE MONEY BLOCKADE

An Editorial

COMMERCIAL BULLETIN

UTILITIES BARONS MISSING

Canada is held in the grip of unemployment and depression by a money blockade; an absolute failure to provide the amount and volume of currency on which business can be resumed and employment restored; an obstinate, unreasoning clinging to the theory that the natural assets of the country and the character and efforts of the people of the country are not good security upon which to base a circulation of money.

This is the whole truth about, and the one reason for our present commercial and employment difficulties; and it would appear that the forces of reaction are determined to keep the money blockade in force until they have wrung whatever for its wrecking of the general standard of living and for its undermining the morale and loyalty of the majority of the people of Canada.

Our government playboys continue to carry on their childish games of political marbles, without any reference to the vital emergencies and troubles of the nation as if such vital things now urgently calling for immediate, efficient emergency treatment did not exist.

What is the use of spending weeks arguing about sweatshops, titles, banks and their methods when nearly one million people are out of work and another three million people are in hopeless financial distress. The claim of the majority of the people in Canada today is for opportunity to work at fair wages; to add to the assets of the country; and to earn a sufficient revenue as a result of industry and on conditions preserving self-respect.

One would think that every political leader in the nation would take it as a matter of privilege and pride to insist upon instant measures for providing means that this constructive public desire be carried into effect. The urgent thing needed is an adequate volume of money in circulation. The necessary volume could be put into circulation immediately and unemployment would be remedied and commodity prices restored.

No government leader will utter an intelligent word about national reconstruction. There is much noise about national honor and not one word about national efficiency by means of which alone the people can be given work at fair wages and clothed and fed.

Every day wasted in political mouthings is another day of hopeless suffering for millions of Canadian people; and instead of getting anywhere we remain afflicted with an epidemic of political self-justification and with a completely unnecessary money blockade.

Turn to page 11 and carefully read the large charts which give you a complete picture of Canada's currency shortage. How long will Canadians continue to suffer such a tragic situation?

The proposed Central bank—The Bank of Canada—must be owned and operated by the people of Canada in the public interest or we will continue to be slaves to "foreign money and the greed of private credit manipulators.

Think it over!

PREMIER BROWNLEE'S BUDGET DEFICITS OF GOVERNMENT

SALT LAKES ROCKED AGAIN

SALT LAKE CITY, March 15.—Four earth movements, the first of which was felt at 10:30 a.m. and throughout northern Utah today, today, the second at 11:30 a.m. and the third at 1:30 p.m. and the fourth at 4:30 p.m. The most severe tremor was felt at 11:30 a.m. and others at 1:30 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. and 6:30 a.m. and 6:37 a.m.

Residents here from the respective Springs area in Box Elder county, center of last Monday's earthquake, said streams of black water issued from several fissures when the 5.08 a.m. disturbance was felt today.

The fissures, many of them more than a foot wide and hundreds of feet long, appeared in the ground during the quake earlier in the week.

IL DUCE PLANS FREE AUSTRIA

ROME, March 15.—A concrete plan for the economic independence of Austria was formulated today by Premier Mussolini of Italy, Chancellor Dollfus of Austria and Premier Ciano of Italy.

The three premiers also laid plans for improvement of the Danubian basin.

Fulvio Sivich, under-secretary of foreign affairs, conducted them to Il Duce's office.

Circle close to the government said it was logical to hope the plans being laid by the three premiers would create a new era in south-east Europe.

Brownlee Addresses Legislature for Two Hours in General Defensive Administration Reply to Non-Confidence Debate.

Forcefully proclaiming his opposition to a default in interest payments, Mr. Brownlee, in a "most drastic" case would mean "more drastic than ever" curtailment of expenditures and "reduction in public works."

He dismissed Mr. Brownlee's attack on the budget in the legislature on Wednesday evening by declaring that the government's defence of its administration against the attack launched earlier in the week by W. R. Howson, provincial Liberal leader and D. M. Duggan, provincial Conservative leader.

He declared the Premier defended his administration and dealt with arguments raised by the opposition with contentment of the Liberal leader, largely revolving around the government's defence of its administration against the attack launched earlier in the week by W. R. Howson, provincial Liberal leader and D. M. Duggan, provincial Conservative leader.

Several small townships were almost razed. Property damage was estimated at some $2,500,000. Most of the victims were negroes.

LA LIBERTAD RAKED BY FIRE AFTER BLAST

Water Reservoir Ruined and 150 Lose Lives in Explosion

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador, March 15.—Approximately 150 persons were killed when a powerful explosion of dynamite almost destroyed the city of La Libertad Wednesday. Following the terrific explosion which occurred at the docks, nearby buildings caught fire and four blocks were quickly consumed by the flames. Buildings destroyed included the city hall and a church.

In addition to the 150 believed dead, a large number of persons were reported seriously injured. Hundreds of automobiles were rushed from the capital to the stricken city to bring them to hospitals here.

Hours after the explosion the main part of the city was still in flames. The fire was spreading so rapidly, reports said, it was feared the city might be lost. The dynamite was being unloaded from a ship when it exploded in a cellar and caught fire. Officials blamed the blast was caused by sparks from a locomotive.

Among those killed were many officials, including four customs agents. Scores of firemen were sent from the capital. Automobiles were commandeered and all trucks in the city were temporarily disrupted by the explosion which could be heard here for about 30 miles away. La Libertad is the most important port of entry for the capital.

The population of La Libertad is approximately 5,000, and it was believed the loss of life was much higher than first reports indicated.

Former Chicago Magnate Is Said to Have Fled Greece Disguised As Woman and On Way to Paris

ATHENS, March 15.—The theory was advanced this evening that Samuel Insull, left Athens at 6:30 p.m. disguised as a woman and was on his way to Paris.

ATHENS, March 15.—Mrs. Samuel Insull, Sr., wife of the American utilities magnate, today was taken to the police station for examination after it became known her husband had fled from his apartment here.

Mrs. Insull was taken into custody and questioned by police. They also seized Mrs. Insull's personal effects, including a diamond ring, a close friend of the Insulls. Personal servants also were put on the grid.

Mrs. Insull told police her husband had fled from his apartment here. She said she had no idea where he had gone.

Insull's sudden disappearance came while high government authorities were declaring that Insull positively would leave the country in compliance with the official order that he had to quit Greece before midnight.

Some people believed he might have fled in the darkness to one of the thousands of islands of the Aegean sea, some of which belong to Greece, some to Italy and some to Turkey. General opinion, however, was that Insull had fled in mind which he left.

Unconfirmed reports today said Samuel Insull, Sr., Chicago fugitive, had disappeared from his home during the night and that police were seeking him.

Mrs. Samuel Insull, Sr., said today her husband had fled from his apartment here, but that she did not know where he had gone.

The police detained two maids and one man serving as a nurse.

Previously in the day Greek government officials had declared Insull had to leave before midnight, despite an earlier official intimation Greece's order for the expulsion of Insull might not be carried out.

MANY CALLED IN CONRADSON MURDER TRIAL

Circumstantial Incidents Are Supplied By Procession of Witnesses

WETASKIWIN, March 15.—Wednesday afternoon session of the Conradson murder trial was slowed down by the slow deliberations of Alfred Olson, a witness, coupled with the need of using an interpreter for his examination. Conradson's third-day hearing on the murder of Carl Anderson, Buck Creek, was interrupted by emotional developments. The testimony of Olson had to do with a special brand of 22 rifle of outstanding make, one easily identified therefore.

Slowly Mr. Pawley elicited facts from the witness. He said Ed Conradson came to Wetaskiwin place and told him that Frank Conradson, father of accused, had gone to Edmonton to get a divorce. Ed had told him that there was trouble on his part, and that Anderson and that there would be nothing left of Anderson. Ed said he had heard of the trial of the witness that if he heard of anyone being hanged he would know it was Anderson.

Cross-examined by Mr. Miller. Olson replied as follows:

ADMIT POOR MEMORY

Q.—You have not a very good memory, have you? A.—No.

Q.—You have a poor memory? A.—Yes.

Q.—Do you remember when you last saw your 22 Winchester rifle? A.—About two years ago. When he saw the special Winchester rifle at Ed. Conradson's he thought it was his because of a fight.

Q.—Did you think it was your rifle? His Lordship repeating the question got the answer. The witness was difficult both in examination and cross-examination, some questions went unanswered even after many moments of patient waiting on the part of counsel. He told that his homefired cornered that of Frank Conradson. He had heard of trouble between Conradson and Anderson. Witness said he visited the neighbors but not Ed. Conradson since the rifle incident two years ago.

THREATS MADE

Q.—The statement Ed. Conradson made to you, your number 22 word, did he say there would be nothing left of Anderson. A.—Yes.

Witness said that Ed. Conradson asked if he had heard of the trouble between Conradson, Sr., and his (Ed's) mother. There was considerable consideration between counsel and witness when his Lordship suggested that conversation between witness and accused was in Swedish. Counsel had been taking words using English. His Lordship intervened here to witness that Mr. Frangley's evidence should be given through an interpreter.

INTERVIEWER CALLED

After evidence given by Alfred Olson for an hour his Lordship suggested that the evidence be given through an interpreter. The interpreter Emil Sjöberg was called and was sworn. All the efforts of the interpreter failed to get the better response to counsel's questions than when put to him in English. The evidence, however, previously given above was confirmed in all important points both in examination and cross examination.

ANDY BAKK CALLED

Andy Bakk of Buck Creek, was next witness. He said Anderson had no rifle. "I loaned him one and got it back," Anderson had sold teeth, they were to be seen when he laughed. This witness testified.

Donald Curry, clerk, provincial treasurer, testified that he saw a check being issued to Wm. Giberson which is still outstanding. Bakk's check was made out on November 6, 1932.

Charles Bratton, homesteader near Buck Creek, said he knew Ed. Conradson a little bit. He saw him on the 14th of November and spoke to him for an hour after he had been going to Breton on foot.

James Clark, Mulhurst, said he knew Buck Creek district travelling in a sleigh. He went to Conradson's place November 13.

Q.—Did you see Ed. Conradson on Monday, November 13. A.—Yes, about a o'clock.

Q.—Where? A.—About four and half miles from Breton. He came from the west, caught up and rode with us.

Q.—What conversation did you have with him? He said he was about a place to stop. He said his mother had a place.

He arrived in Breton with Conradson at five thirty on Monday, November 13. He saw no one there. He got the trail between Breton and Buck Creek. Ed. Conradson had mentioned some hunters with a hay rack travelling east to Breton.

Cross examined by Jackson, witness in reply to question regarding time it would take him to walk from Breton through H.R.D. H.D.D. from Breton to Buck Creek, said quite a while but he had never before a walk like that.

John Safonowich of Mulhurst was with previous witness at Buck Creek. He had no conversation with accused after he joined him and Clark. This witness produced a lighter which had no driving

Bennett Defends System Against "Class Dictation" Protest in Debate

OTTAWA, March 15.—With three members jumping party lines, the House of Commons yesterday placed its approval on titles for Canadians.

By a vote of 113 to 84, Conservatives defeated a motion to restrain the Prime Minister from making further recommendations to the King for titles and honors.

Lining up with the Liberals, Progressives and United Farmers in support of the non-titles motion, sponsored by Humphrey Mitchell, labor member for East Hamilton, were two Ontario Conservatives, George Stephen, North Huron and I. D. Condon, North Westford.

The government has a working majority of 100. Thus both knights in the chamber, the view of Mr. Bennett set in motion today may extend that proposed change of title flying at well.

In the biggest vote of the session, with pairs unrecognized, the government had one of the most important since it came into office in 1930. Conservatives have a working majority of 30 over all parties in the house since the House of Commons was divided along political lines in 1927.

Additional Three Weeks Allowed for Boys to Finish Coaches

The closing date for the 1934 competition being conducted by the Fisher Body Craftsmen's Guild has been advanced to midnight, July 21st, according to an announcement made by C. B. Wall, secretary of the Canadian section. This will allow Canadian boys competing for the $17,000 in scholarship awards, an additional three weeks to finish their miniature Napoleonic coaches. Eight scholarships in all are being offered this year.

In previous Guild competitions the closing date has been June 30th. Since summer vacations will have started, the three-week extension will give boys who are building coaches an added opportunity to complete their models.

TO PUBLISH MAGAZINE

Publication of the first issue of the Guild magazine, which is to be the official organ of the Fisher Body Craftsmen's Guild, will be, according to announcement, the magazine which will be issued quarterly. The magazine will contain news of the Guild, its officers and members of the Guild, and will also contain articles of an inspirational character. The magazine will further promote the practical purpose of the Guild.

Inaugurated with the view of stimulating interest in craftsmanship among the youth of Canada and the United States, the Fisher Body Craftsmen's Guild has won international recognition as an outstanding educational foundation since its inception three years ago. The Canadian section is distinctly separate from the American division of the Guild. Last year three Canadian boys earned scholarships to the United States for their excellent work.

Whoooping Cough Kills Off Indians

11 FORD, Mile 286, Hudson Bay, N.W.T., March 15.—A horrible scourge of the north country—whoooping cough—has taken heavy toll among the Indian encampments near Oxford House, east of here. The disease has been spreading since it was brought here by Donald Bradburn, a dog driver who arrived recently.

Most of the 20 who succumbed to the disease were children and old people he said. Further suffering was caused by the loss of many dogs through ravages of distemper.

NEW U.S. AIR POLICY MAY START RUMPS

Roosevelt Order Revives Gen. Mitchell Controversy of 1925

WASHINGTON, March 15.—President Roosevelt's order for a study of aviation intended to produce a new United States air policy last night prompted to revive the bitter controversy that began with Brigadier-General William Mitchell's famed utterances in 1925 and has continued sporadically since.

Mitchell, former assistant chief of the army, urged one federal agency for the control of military aviation. The view of Mr. Roosevelt set in motion today may extend that proposed change of title flying at well.

It was the first time in recent years the House of Commons was divided along political lines in 1927.

Committee Disagrees Over New Statute

OTTAWA, March 15.—The translation bill, which had a stormy first and second reading in the House of Commons, precipitated a warm discussion when it came before the civil service committee yesterday, ending with the withdrawal of E. R. Chevrier (Lib., Ottawa). Mr. Chevrier led a request by Liberal members of the committee for the right to call certain witnesses whose opinions had been quoted by Hon. C. H. Cahan, secretary of state, when the bill was in second reading.

Mr. Cahan, after taking the stand there was no reason for the calling of such witnesses, also left the meeting. The point will be decided when the committee meets today.

Sweep Law Not Passed By Senate

OTTAWA, March 15.—An erroneous impression had gone across Canada that the Senate had "passed" the sweepstakes bill. Hon. George P. Graham said, speaking in the Upper Chamber yesterday. The fact was that the bill had been given second reading, but was yet to be considered by the committee of the whole house, which will probably be started today.

The sweepstakes bill was discussed only briefly yesterday when Hon. George Parent asked leave to place on Hansard a resolution adopted by the Ottawa Presbytery of the United Church of Canada, condemning the action of the Senate in "passing" the resolution.

Senator Graham said the measure was far from having passed in Senate. It might be thrown out by the committee, defeated on third reading, or withdrawn by the original sponsor.

NEW RADIUM DISCOVERY ON HOTTAH LAKE

Promising Find Recorded 1300 Miles North of This City

BARRE, Ont., March 15.—Edward Hargreaves, Sr., of Barrie, managing director of the Great Bear Lake Development Company, Limited, last night confirmed reports of a new radium discovery by his firm at Hottah Lake, 1300 miles north of Edmonton.

Mr. Hargreaves said the find was of promising quality and proportions. He made his statement to left Barrie for the Great Bear Lake country. Mr. Hargreaves said his son, Edward, who spent the winter in the Hottah Lake country reported the find "as very rich indeed."

"I am very keen on this new discovery," he said. Mr. Hargreaves said prospectors of the Great Bear Development Company had flown into Hottah Lake area and staked 40 claims in the radium area.

The diamond drilling crew of the company, he added, had been sent into the district and the Anso plant had been installed. He declared that diamond drilling would start April 1.

THURSDAY, MARCH 15

A FIFTY-FIFTY SPLIT

Edmonton and Calgary are each to receive a grant of $450,000 from the provincial treasury, as compensation or compassionate allowance for having been deprived of the right to levy a service tax.

Inasmuch as the cities might have got nothing that are much to the good, and the compromise is fair and reasonable from a standpoint, it is not surprising that the province was justified in depriving the cities of this means of raising revenue and approving the power to settle the dispute, the settlement is even generous.

That the province was justified the cities will not concede, and apparently the Government is none too certain on the point that it is continuing the compensatory grants beyond the period promised. A satisfactory—perhaps the best—way to settle the dispute and the province to make the cities each a grant of say $30,000 a year in perpetuity. The province could well afford that, since it collects twice the amount through the tax it has expropriated, and the cities need money quite as badly as it does.

"SAVING" MONEY FOR TRIBUTE

The latest suggestion is that the four western provinces could save some money if they decided to get along on the basis of the errors during these years of depression, and closed up the official residences of these representatives of the King.

There are also a number of other ways, in fact a good many, in which this particular province could save money, if we have to the where we are, perhaps, but the legislature might, for instance, instruct the Government to cut off the flood lights at the legislature to illuminate the splendid dome of the legislative building, might tell Mr. Speaker to struggle through another year with a new cocked hat and the Sergeant-at-Arms to discard the brand of powder to polish the mail. It might even kick that symbol of authority, along with the Sergeant's sword, to the Legislative Chamber for a warehouse between sessions. There is no telling where the urgent might end if it were given free rein.

But there is one direction in which there is no imminent danger of it driving the legislature of Alberta toward the verge of bankruptcy. The interest rates on the provincial debt. Salaries may be cut, civil servants fired, the Government may be forced to resign the House boarded up and left to the owls and bats, and all sorts of pariahs may be made of them, but the Government has the right of the bond-holder to collect twice the interest he is entitled to must not be challenged.

Apparently there is no limit to the sacrifice of prestige and substance which the legislature of Alberta is prepared to impose upon the people of this province in order that their tax-money may be handed over in undiminished volume as a tribute to Moloch. That is where the money "saved" by closing Government House would go.

PRODUCING IN PERIL

The plan to curtail wheat production in western Canada by propaganda has been abandoned. Instead, the sale of wheat is to be curtailed by law.

That is the substance of parallel legislation introduced in the House of Commons and the prairie provinces and in the Dominion Parliament. In each of these provinces an Emergency Wheat Control Board will be created, consisting of three members. This board shall have power to say, by license or otherwise, how much wheat a farmer is to produce in a period between August 1st, 1934, and June 1st, 1935. That is the essential feature of the scheme. To make it workable the legislation proposes to clothe the Control Board with unlimited and arbitrary powers, no appeal being allowed from its decisions to the courts of the land.

Ontario is the most populous of the nine provinces and by far the richest. Yet it pays a higher interest rate on its funded debt than any other province in the Dominion. Prince Edward Island. The figures were furnished by Mr. Thomas Bradshaw, the Toronto financier, in a newspaper-column as president of a leading insurance company.

It is undoubtedly, if the amount of wheat Canada is to sell abroad is to be restricted, it will be easier to apply the restriction at some point of sale rather than at the point of production. To set a maximum acreage for each farmer and demand a fixed acreage reduction, would involve employing an army of inspectors whose salaries and expenses would eat up a good share of the crop.

The point comes in at the first stage in the marketing process. The farmer will be allowed to sell only so many bushels as the board says he may sell. If he produces more than that amount, the surplus will be left on his hands, and he must feed it, destroy it, or store it at his own cost and expense. It is hardly likely that the farmer, frightened at this prospect, will now fewer acres this spring than he sowed last.

Crop curtailment is thus to be accomplished by compulsion indirectly exerted. If the farmer does not curtail production, it will be at his own peril. If the acreage turned out to be unexpectedly favorable, he will be penalized for the bounty of nature. If he does not happen to turn out as much as the Control Board will let September time he should have curtailed, that will be his misfortune. If he happens to have curtailed more than enough, that of course will again be his bad luck. The Government are not telling him how much he should cut down his acreage, they are only telling him to do it, he takes the risk.

With a world wheat surplus on one hand, and grain-hoarding, cut wheat, drought and Wheat Control Board on the other, the wheat-grower in this year of grace will need to be a prophet if he is to keep from going broke.

FREER TRADE NEEDED

The reduction in the World's purchasing power and the widespread barriers to international trade have necessitated recourse being made to artificial restraints for conserving our industries and our trade. It must be frankly acknowledged that, at the present time, it is only by these artificial restraints that we are able to separate trade agreements with individual countries, that our international trade can be maintained on a basis of equality, and that a bare margin of profit in the face of the tariff barriers and other restrictions, which, without these artificial restraints, would be a thing of all these difficulties, a better understanding of the real value to the World of free trade conditions may be reached—Mr. F. C. Good-enough, chairman of Barclay's Bank.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

Next to enjoying properly ourselves, it is good to see the evidence of prosperity in our big neighbor to the south. Canada is so much influenced by the pressure of events in the United States, that we in time are bound to share in what prosperity is achieved south of the line. The British Columbia lumbering industry, under the N.R.A. schedules, have ended a season of lumbering workmen's wages exceeding any year since 1928.

The Automotive Daily News, the trade paper of the automobile industry on this continent, in its February 28 issue, announced on the authority of William S. Strunk, Jr., executive vice-president of General Motors Corporation, that the automobile workers of the United States will this year have incomes as large as in 1929. Production for February, 1934, was 117 per cent over February, 1933.

The hourly wages of General Motors workmen, says Mr. Knudson, are this year "practically what they were in 1929." If, as expected, they would be maintained at the level of the N.R.A. code, they will average about the same as in 1929. What applies to General Motors Corporation will apply to the automobile trade generally.

The minimum wage allowed under the N.R.A. code for automobile workers is 43 cents an hour, but the average is something over 50 per cent of the workers are on the minimum. The present average hourly wage of General Motors workers is about 60 per cent in excess of the minimum.

Write that down as one of the concrete evidences of a return to normalcy in the United States, achieved in the time of our present President. Roosevelt assumed office, and placed in effect his drastic measures of controlled capitalism and currency inflation.

How does this look as a calendar of principal happenings during the momentous first twelvemonth of the present administration? The United States has its doors closed to meet depositors demand.

March 4, 1933. President Roosevelt installed in office and pledged himself to the welfare of the laboring man. The United States has its doors closed to meet depositors demand.

May 12. President Roosevelt signs agricultural adjustment administration bill for the relief of farmers.

Judicial humor.—The most reasonable and humorous, is an entirely delightful thing, but when it is merciless and irrelevant, it sinks to the low level of those pathetic radio comedians who spend their time in making fun of the cracks and then laugh at their own ("T") jokes.

The appellate division of the California courts, in a recent decision, held that a man setting free two men who had committed a grand theft and a judicial humorist had been guilty of no fewer than 48 attempts at humor during the trial. The appeal judges do doubt thought they had been punished enough.

Here are some of the wisecracks that Judge John H. Burrell perpetrated. Of a witness asked what he had been doing, "What he had been doing—flagpole sitting!"

On the proposed introduction of some exhibits "Are you going to introduce the three wise monkeys?"

To the jurors, warning them not to have converse with the attorneys in the case: "I don't want you to talk to these fellows on the stand or in small talk. Just kindly figure they have measles or something you don't want to expose your face to."

To a witness leaving the box: "I guess you are through with you. What is left of it you can be excused."

Judge like that ought to be earning $7,500 a week as a radio comedian.

It's always pleasing to hear of a local boy who makes good. Mention on two recent occasions of the splendid work being done by Dr. E. A. Neff at the Lepher hospital at Moslag in the South Seas, reveals that Dr. Neff is an old Edmonton boy, son of Dr. J. A. Neff, formerly of Edmonton, but now of Victoria, B.C., and who still has a farm near Clover Bar.

Dr. Earl A. Neff also has a fine war record. He left Edmonton in August, 1914, with the 101st Edmonton Fusiliers, which later became the 9th Battalion, a western Canadian unit. He was with the Force, of which Dr. Neff became battalion medical officer.

It's very pleasing to know that the man whom Win. A. Robinson in his "Ten Thousand Leagues Over the Sea" holds out as the shining example of splendid missionary work in the South Seas, is a western Canadian boy, born and reared amongst us, with fine record for humanity both in war and peace.

Pleasant Associations Easily Remembered

By DOCTOR FRANK MCCOY

In today's article I am going to try to give you some suggestions about how to let association of pleasant ideas help you to remember. First, I will take an experience which you will probably have many times. Suppose you want to remember something. Little pictures begin to flash into your mind and one suggests another and one suggests another, and you trace each one backward, the last one will finally remind you of the thing you were trying to remember.

This method is especially good in recalling where you put away some object which you can not now find. Suppose it was a letter. You remember you had put it in your hand reading it by the front window. Next, you will recall that one of the children came and asked for an apple. Next, that you went after the apple. This will remind you that you stopped to wash the dishes. Next, that you went to the kitchen and at this point you will distinctly remember that you put the letter under the soap-dish. Now you go to the spot and find it. By tracing the happening associated with the letter, you will remember where to look for it.

The above example applies to a situation where you are trying to remember where you can also use it at the time you are putting something away in your memory. With the above is a reminder of protection of the two other ideas. Suppose you want to remember a telephone number and it is 1124. Stop and look at it and think of something which it will help to fix it in your mind. You may recall that you met that person on the eleventh day of the month and that he has since written you two letters. Next, you will time you want the number, you will recall 11 and 24, and it will flash into your mind like a shot.

When you want to remember any fact, make use of this rule: It will be far easier for you to remember a fact if you can associate it with ideas associated in your mind with pleasant thoughts.

fact that is linked with unpleasantness in your mind, you will easily forget. I am going to show you how this rule of unpleasant association works. Suppose you are thinking of a certain man's name. You can never seem to remember it. The chances are that you have some unpleasant feeling about him, and your mind will not remember his name quickly which means that your mind is protecting you from the painful memory. Such a device is really a measure of protection of the part of your mind, as it tries to bury some unpleasant memory which would wreck and ruin your life. Another example of the same thing occurs when we remember some dates or appointments, but forget others. You will easily remember a date to go to the bank where you expect to have a very pleasant time, but will easily forget to have an appointment with a friend. These things do not enter your mind are those you don't want to keep.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION—T. U. of Ottawa, Ontario, Canada, writes: "I would be very pleased to secure a copy of your recipe for making potato soup."

ANSWER.—To make potato soup you need peeled and dice potatoes to equal three cups and place over fire with three or four cups of water. Cook until tender, and add about three cups of milk or this may be replaced by spoonfuls of chopped parsley. Serve with this strip of Melba toast. By using celery instead of the potatoes you will have a delicious non-starchy soup.

QUESTION—"A Bachelor" inquires: "Why do you say that married people live longer than single ones? I notice that you made this statement in a recent article."

ANSWER.—The most reasonable explanation which I can give you of the fact that married people live longer than single ones is as follows: Those who are married tend to have more regular habits than those who are unmarried, especially in regard to food. The bachelor does not eat his meals at regular intervals, he eats irregular meals, which are as a general rule more wholesome than those obtained in a restaurant. When he is entirely possible to obtain a wholesome meal in a restaurant if one knows which foods to pick out, nevertheless the bachelor does not bother to take the trouble to do this. He does not know what or not this answer will sound very convincing to you; however, it is true that many statistics show that the average married person actually does live longer than the average unmarried person.

The Stevens Enquiry and the Wage-Earner

By R. T. ELLIOTT, K.C.

Evidence brought out at Ottawa, with considerable expense and plenty of abuse, shows, what we all knew already, that retail buyers are driven by shortage of money to look for low-priced goods; and that sellers have to find low-priced goods or go without business.

It is the most elementary of trade laws that the price must fit the buyer's power. Should a code fix the price of the cheapest chair at one dollar, a man having only ninety cents will not buy a chair but will salvage a discarded wooden stool to sit on. You can fix a price by law; but no law can make a man buy unless he has money.

That is why the Ottawa enquiry is a pathetic travesty. We are governed in buying and selling by the need of money with which to do business. Money in Canada has been deliberately contracted to about ten or eleven per cent of the amount of the bank deposits. Even out of this contracted circulation, a substantial part is tied up in payment of public utility charges for light and water, and in payment of rates and taxes; so that only a skeleton currency is left for retail business. Therefore the Ottawa enquiry in order to succeed must be able to show that business can be carried on without money; and this is impossible.

The only cure for the retail business in Canada is an immense increase in the volume of money in circulation; it is the function and duty of the Dominion government to provide this money; and to ascribe to the Hon. Mr. Stevens any blame for these facts would be to do him an injustice. The stern necessity of some indirect political action must have driven him to champion the enquiry.

Money made available for all practicable works of construction, repair and improvement (even though having only a small percentage) or reasonable terms as to security is the only prescription which will restore the rate and volume of wages and salaries, and a full condition of prosperity to bring about a revival of the cash price in the retail stores. Codes can be paraded high but will not take the place of the needed wage and salary money which alone can bring back the volume of business.

Avoid Overcooking in Preparing Rhubarb

By SISTER MARY

Rhubarb, come in in the season, when fresh fruits are scarce in most other countries, that the up-to-date housewife is in the lookout for ways to use it in her spring menu.

Its pleasantly tart flavor which stimulates the appetite, rhubarb is a good source of iron, and contains phosphorus, that constituent necessary for strong teeth, bones, and vitamin C are present in this fruit.

Rhubarb vegetable. We hear some people object to rhubarb on account of its acidity. While the leaves do contain a small amount of acid and should not be used for food, the stems contain only a very small amount and after cooking the acid content is nil. In spite of its tart flavor, its residue upon digestion is alkaline.

DONT OVER-COOK Care should be taken not to overcook rhubarb. Vitamin C is destroyed if subjected to too great heat for too long a time. The less heat possible should be used to prevent burning, very juicy of fruit-vegetable is very juicy of itself. Cover the sauce pan and as soon as the rhubarb boils it should be "done." Always add sugar when removing from the fire.

Adding other materials to "pie plant" makes it possible to obtain dishes of increased food value. Rhubarb combines excellently with almost any other fruit.

Rhubarb, commonly used with fruit. The extra materials used to make up a pie plant in the rhubarb. For example, adding raisins to stewed or baked rhubarb to the dish and increases its efficiency.

RHUBARB SHORTCAKE Rhubarb comes immediately to mind when rhubarb is mentioned. There are numerous rhubarb desserts which are delicious when made with rhubarb. Frozen desserts, hot or cold puddings and gelatin desserts use this common garden plant to excellent advantage. Well sweetened rhubarb sauce is amazingly good with plain rice and custard puddings.

Rhubarb shortcake is a simple dessert. Make an old-fashioned shortcake with baking powder.

POOR DEFENSE LOSES GAME Perhaps the majority of players are more backward in their knowledge of bridge than in any other game. The fact of the game is that defense is as important as offensive play, but it is more often neglected. Old-fashioned players seldom have the right idea concerning when trump should be led defensively. The following hand offers a good example of defense through improper leads.

INDIANS TRIUMPH OVER KIMBERLEY BUT LOSE ROUND

There are many strange happenings recorded over any given term of sportive activity and one of the strangest occurred last night when Prince Albert Minors bowed out of the Allan Cup picture for 1934. . . . Called names like "miracle team" and such when they ran up something like 22 straight victories, Minors began to falter near the close of the league schedule, and they lost the last game. . . . However, they came through their league playoff and entered the Saskatchewan senior finals against Regina Aces.

Real Dynamiters in Final. By 4-3 Margin; Many Penalties in Second Period of Game.

By CHARLES HOOD
CALGARY, March 15.—Luscar Indians made a gallant attempt to overcome the three-goal lead Kimberley Dynamiters took Monday night but lost the two-game total on the ice and in the end of their 4-3 victory last night Kimberley travels on east to play the Saskatchewan champions in the first game of another total goal series starting Saturday night.

had five men on the ice to Luscar's three.

Carver was handed a penalty following the last of these goals, for throwing his stick. Shortly after he returned at the opening of the final period he scored the last goal of the game with a bullet drive from the blue line. It slid in off Hornequist's pad.

Eskimo Manager Believes His Team Will Enter Pro Finals

SEATTLE, March 15.—Edmonton Eskimos and Vancouver Lions stepped out in light workouts Wednesday in preparation for the second game of their two-out-of-three Northwestern Professional Hockey League semi-final series here tonight and the night to meet Calgary Tigers in the final.

Al's Pats Placed in Tough Spot

AL RITCHIE, defenseman of Regina Pats, who saw his team take a 2-1 licking from Saskatoon Wesleys last night in the first game of the new home-and-home series for the junior hockey championship of Saskatchewan, will need to have all his strategy working to get the club out of that hole in the final game Friday.

WESLEYS GAIN EDGE OF TWO GOALS OVER PATS WITH VICTORY

Open New Home-and-Home Series With 3-1 Win on Home Ice; Stage Final on Friday.

SASKATOON, March 15.—Saskatoon Wesleys gained a two-goal lead in the Saskatchewan Junior Hockey final with Regina Pats when they chalked up a 3 to 1 victory here Wednesday night. The first game of the series. The second game will be played at Regina Friday night. The first home-and-home series between the clubs resulted in a 4-4 draw.

Like-wise, there was a somewhat surprising result in the Alberta-B.C. senior final at Calgary last night when Luscar, blanked 3-0 in the first game against Kimberley, tore into the British Columbia champions and taking them up a 4-3 victory. . . . However, their win was not a sufficient margin to do any good and Kimberley now proceeds into the next round of Dominion play-downs. . . .

Even Score

Kimberley evened the score on a wide open play in the opening minutes of the second period. Kemp passed over to Bottel at the blue line and the left winger scored through an open path to the goal to beat Pew. More than half the period was gone when Luscar moved into the lead again with a pair of goals by Saunders and Kennedy. At the time both teams were short-handed through the major penalties handed Kosak and Hills.

Cubs Advance

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 15.—Boston Cubs gained undisputed possession of second place in the Canadian-American Hockey League last night by trouncing Haven Eagles 5-2.

Saskatoon Wesleys hammered out a 3-1 win over Regina Pats last night in a game that attracted wide attention here because the eventual senior winners met Edmonton Athletic Club Juniors in the second round of Memorial Cup play-downs. . . . Final game of the Wesleys-Pats play-off is set for tomorrow. . . .

MONCTON AHEAD IN ICE SERIES

MONCTON, March 15.—Mount Allan's hockey team, champions of the Senior "B" Division of Maritime Hockey, last night was outclassed by Canada's amateur champions, Moncton Hawks, in the first of a home and home series for the right to go to Montreal in Allan Cup competition.
